PARIS, March 24.—The Hungarian alliance with the Bolsheviki had a salutary effect on the Peace Conference today when it was discussed. From a source in closest tour with German government circles it is learned that a definite policy with regard to the peace treaty has now been decided on. This policy provides for a refusal to sign if it contains demands for the severance from Germany of what the German government regards as purely German government regards as purely German territory. Not only the left bank of the Rhine but also the Saar valley and Dantzig have been laid down as coming within that definition and in event of all or any of those areas being claimed on behalf of the Entente or any of the Allied states, it is understood the German government will refuse to sign the treaty.

lis a fitting day for the entrance of the Austrian units into this port. The Italian army, after four years of courageous fighting, full of hardships and facrifices, attacking, the enemy in their lairs where they had taken refuge, afforded them by the nature of the coast on the farther side of the Adriatic, is now awarded its just price, the tangible proof of victory. The whole town was befiagged and decorated as a sign of rejoicing, while innumerable gondolas full of people glided along the animated canals crowded with happy, noisy people. At the first sight of the approaching units an ear-splitting cheer rose, the people strained forward to cathe sight of the ships which bombarded their undefended towns and coast, and which now have had to humbly surrender to the nation they called "dreamers and mandolists."

The first units to appear were two dreadnaughts, Tegethoff and Franz Ferdinand, followed by a cruber and numerous destroyers, torpedo boats and submarines.

Passage of the validating acts has been recommended by the Chamber of Commerce and Harbor Commission of Los Angeles and, but for the appearance here of Dr. Hill and Mike Collins, they would have been passed by the Legislature as a matter of form.

The situation relating to California tidelands is unique. The title was originally invested in the State. By an act of the Legislature passed in 1911 all tidelands within the boundary of Los Angeles were conveyed to that city, and the city was authorized to make leases for periods not to exceed thirty years. It is under these leases that the big improvements at the harbor have been made.

BARKENTINE WRECKED BY GREAT TIDAL WAVE.

The barkentine St. James, owned by Hind, Rolph & Co. of this city, was destroyed in the South Pacific on December 16 after-being struck by a tidal wave and cast on a reef off the island of Oeno. Details of the wreck were brought here today by Capt. Martin Anderson, who arrived from Sydney on the steamship Ventura. The ship on December 15 was becalmed fifty miles from Oeno. Late that night the ship suddenly began to tremble violently as it was shaken about by what appeared to be a seismic disturbance.

A tidal wave followed immediately, and the big ship was carried di-

The Gasoline Problem of Supply and Demand

The second of a series of three statements

The war directed attention to the need of petroleum conservation. Speaking on this subject, Mark L. Requa, General Director, Oil Division, United States Fuel Administration, recently said:

"The disproportion between the supply of and demand for gasoline is enormous and constitutes a critical problem.

"Projected at the percentage of increase, 1904-1914, we should require in 1927 something like 700,000,000 barrels of petroleum. In 1918 our total production was only 350,000,000 barrels."

To meet this situation both the petroleum and automobile industries have for several years been making every effort. The problem has been approached from every

- (a) The oil producers are constantly prospecting for new fields. They have sunk many wells and are doing everything possible to increase petroleum
- (b) The oil refiners, with the help of their chemical engineers, are ever devising new and improved processes of refining by which they squeeze every possible drop of gasoline out of each barrel of petroleum.
- (c) The automotive engineers have aided much in gasoline conservation by their constant improvement of automobile engines and methods of carburization. Their efforts are to secure the operation of automobiles on grades of gasoline that permit the maximum production of this motor fuel from each barrel of crude oil est power and mileage from each unit of gaso-

All these methods are succeeding to a marked degree, and yet gasoline consumption is increasing much faster

Facing these bald facts last summer, it became evident to President Wilson and the United States Fuel Administration that there was virtually as great need for gasoline conservation as for food conservation.

In consequence the United States Fuel Administration requested Eastern States to discontinue entirely all non-essential use of passenger automobiles, and for a time this request was so extended that only automobiles in Government, emergency or war service were in use on Sunday. These limitations were not extended to the Western States, because at the time there was enough gasoline being produced in California for Pacific Coast needs and its distribution did not require the use of transcontinental transportation facilities needed for war.

It was part of this same campaign to conserve gasoline that led President Wilson to appoint a Government committee to determine and adopt standard specifications for gasoline and other petroleum products.

This committee consisted of the United States Fuel Administration and representatives of the War and Navy Departments, the United States Shipping Board, the Director General of Railroads, the Bureau of Mines and the Bureau of Standards.

The committee was assisted and advised by technical experts from each of these departments and bodies.

After extended discussions, exhaustive tests and experimentation, this Government committee adopted standard specifications for gasoline, not only for aviation purposes, but also for general motor use on land and sea.

These United States Government specifications were drawn up with a view to providing a grade of gasoline that would meet every practical requirement and yet allow maximum production. They deal with the prob-lem on the basis of the best utilization of our petroleum resources, and the maintenance of reasonable prices to Drafted as they were by impartial Government experts. these United States Government gasoline specifications are today being generally considered as the most practical standard for gasoline. They insure an efficient and satisfactory gasoline and at the same time have due regard for the necessity of petroleum conservation.

The gasoline being furnished today is more powerful and gives greater mileage than the gasoline of ten years ago. Its use is made possible by the improvements in automobile engines and methods of carburization. To go back to the gasoline of ten years ago would be to accept a more highly volatile but less powerful gasoline giving less mileage. It would also result in decreasing the pro-duction and increasing the cost of gasoline.

All Red Crown gasoline now being supplied in the Pacific Coast States is refined to conform with the United States Government standard specifications. It has the full, uniform chain of boiling points necessary for full-powered, dependable gasoline: Low boiling points for easy starting, medium boiling points for quick, smooth acceleration, and high boiling points for power and

PERCAUSIVE DISPATCH

WASHINGTON, March 24.-Rapid ization of the army and the early return of President Wilson give rise to hopes on the part of som "wets" that wartime prohibition can be avoided, or at least cut short Under the law wartime prohibition becomes effective on July 1 and con inues during the period of demobili-

The hopes of the "wets" are based on a possibility that the President may declare demobilization at an end during the present year. The defining of the period covered by demobilization rests with the Presi-dent under the law. The term, it is understood, would not necessarily, mean the complete demobilization of down to a force of 500,000 or thereabouts which the War Department believes should be retained for the

The "wets" hope the army will get down to the peace-time figure before constitutional prohibition goes into effect next January. The termination of the demobilization period some time this fall would give a few months interval during which the breweries and saloons of the nation would have an opportunity to reopen.

The drys ridicule this dream of the wests. They declare that there is no chance of the end of demobilization coming before constitutional prohibition becomes effective.

If such a thing were possible as the signing of peace and the proclaiming of the end of demobilization before July 1 there would be no wartime prohibition.

tion before July 1 there would be no wartime prohibition.

Enforcement of the wartime prohibition act will furnish a good deal of a problem. Under the act provision is made for its enforcement by the internal revenue bureau but the provisions are considered inadequate. A bill containing enforcement provisions will be introduced in Congress as soon as the special aession is convened with a hope of its pasage before July 1. The wets will seek to block such legislation with a resonable prospect of success in view of the fact that Congress will be tied with appropriation bills which must be passed before the end of the fiscal year.

[BT A. P. NIGHT WIRE.] NEW YORK, March 24. - Post-naster-General Burleson's action in ismissing Clarence H. to my last dollar and to the last ditch."

He ridiculed Mr. Burleson's statement that the dismissal "was the result of his failure to obey instructions of the Postoffice Department," asserting that the Postal's only two failures to comply with instructions were in cases where "ambiguity" of the instructions caused delay, and where the company "would have faced prosecutions with possible heavy fines" had it obeyed.

"This act of Mr. Burleson," he said, "is only the continuation of a deliberate conspiracy to wreck and ruin the Postal Telegraph system and then establish a monopoly of wire communication in the United States."

States."

Mr. Burleson's principal acts since taking over of the lines, Mr. Mackay asserted, had "been increasing of long-distance telephone rates in the interest of the Bell Telephone Company; the proposition to increase telegraph rates in the interest of the Western Union Telegraph Company; the seizure of the cables after the signing of the armistice; the ousing of myself and other officials of the Commercial Cable and Postal companies, and the order that the Postal build no lines to compete with the Bell Telephone or Western Union without first submitting our plans to officials of those companies, of officials of those companies.

Capt. Cecil A. "The engineer." said Capt. Gorelangton, "in every army in the world is a leader of officers. Only head work will 'get him by." It is the engineer officer with brains who does most to keep down the casualty lists, but the engineer with brains must be trained from his youth up." TALKS TO STUDENTS.

Will Delay in

Construction Prove a Costly Mistake?

Many prospective builders would feel very foolish to wake up some morning and find the labor surplus in the building trades entirely exhausted and a keen competition, at increasing wages, for skilled men to finish jobs,

THIS VERY THING IS LIKELY TO OCCUR

Thousands of building trade workers were drawn into "war essential" lines by the government during the war, because building construction was declared "non-essential." They are still working in those lines at better wages than their old wages, which have advanced only slightly.

Moderate building stimulation will deplete present labor surpluses quickly Then will building wages begin "going up."

How Would This Affect

Your Building Plans?

Shrewd business prophets declare THESE TRUTHS:

Building materials are NOT high.

Our living standards have advanced.

High Rents offset all increased costs.

Building Labor Logic

Insists—

Building wages are NOT high.

Wages NEVER will return to pre-war levels.

Higher wages benefit the entire community. Higher wages are wholly responsible for slight advance in cost of building material.

In "a parting greeting" to the Independent Socialists, he administers a sharp castigation to that party and discloses further details of its close alliance with the Russian Bolsheviki. "In the spring of 1918," Bernstein writes, "a social gathering was held in the rooms of the Bolshevik Russian Embassy, members of this embassy and of the Independent Socialist party being present. I was invited, although I never concealed my opposition to the Bolshevik policy. Matters discussed at the meeting included the question as to the reason why the Independent Socialists did not proceed in a revolutionary manner as the Bolsheviki demanded, and at the debate which followed, George Ledebour explained that the party was unfortunately constituted in a different manner than the Bolsheviki."

These are gloomy forebodings, but before we shed any teats over them lot us reflect that woman her body at will, so that what looks to be a serious and horizontal defect is eliminated as easily as one takes off one's hat.

It is a feeted the debutants alouch and went about with a hollow-chested, anemic stoop that made her appear a victim of the early siages of the work of the wives. It simply isn't done.

And when I find my wife getting And when I find my wife setting peevish, and acquiring nerves, I should not waste money on doctors. I would diagnose the case myself, and prescribe a new hat, and the cure would be accomplished. A becoming hat will do more to alter woman's point of view and make her see life at a different angle than any other one single thing, while as for a tonic, a smart frock will put more pep and ginger into a woman than all the iron and strychnine and phospates in the universe.

strychnine and phospates in the universe.

Above all, when I had to 'fess up to my sins, I'd choose the moment when wifey had on a soft, clinging white gown, for I'd know that every woman feels that she's half an angel when she is dressed in white, and that she automatically wears with it a soft, benign and forgiving state of mind.

Believe me, it's a wise man who studies the 'significance of his wife's clothes.

Bail for Edward Schwartz, indicted by the grand jury on twenty-eight counts of larceny by trick and device and obtaining money under faise pretenses, was reduced yesterday by Judge Willis from $25,000 to $10,000. His case was continued to April I to enter a plea. He is accused of representing to a number of women conducting massage and bath parlors that he had great influence with the Police Commission and bath pariors that he had great influence with the Police Commission and directed their action relating to the renewing of permits to conduct these places. He is also charged with collecting $150 every six months from a number of these women.

Schwartz will make no effort to produce ball, it was announced yesterday by Warren L. Williams, his attorney.

TULARE MERCANTILE COMPANY.

Tolare, Cal., March 5th, 1912.

Mr. H. G. Cattell. Pixley, Cal.

Dear Sir: I have been a resident of Tulare for the past trenty-eight years and have long advocated the hreaking up of large holdings which is most cases comprise the most desirable lands in the community. This particularly applies to the Priest Ranch, which I consider offers exceptional opportunities for the home builder. Situated as it is, near the main line of the Southern Pacific and the State Highway, it is easily accessible. This is wonderfully fertile soil and will produce almost anything, with water, of which there is proven to be an abundance near the surface waiting for the pump. By seeding, cultivation and energy well directed, there is no reason why this should not be made one of the garden colonies of Tulare County.

Knowing the Priest land as I do, I shall not hesitate to recommend it to the homeaseker as being particularly and for Thompson Seedless grapes can be found in Tulars centry; and for fig culture, one only has to look to lands adjoining on the north to satisfy eneself of the practicability of raising this type of fruit.

Dinuba, Cal., March 2rd, 1919.

Mr. H. G. Cattell, Pixley, Cal.

Dear Sir: Regarding your land at Pixley, I can say that it is as good as the land at Dinuba. It is simply ideal for sitelfar grapes, dgs and pasches. While it is a pumping proposition, this is more than offset by entire lack of hardpan, uniformly level sell, and freedom from grasses, attending ditch irrigation. Respectfully.

Very truly yours.

Arising from the faint-hearted there a wall that because the road leading to a League of Nations is not paved with asphalt, because the bridges are not of cement and the grade crossing eliminated, the whole project should be abandoned.

If there were no obstacles in the path, the league would have been formed a cenry ago. When the Americans prepared their assault on the German entrenchnents in the Argonne Forest, Gen. Pershing was informed that he was about to attack the strongest point in the whole Hinden-burg line. If he had been deterred by the cles set in his path a peace conference would not now be in session in Paris.

There are obstacles in the way of a League of Nations-ravines deeper than those in the Argonne Forest; but back of the movement is the same driving force that broke the Argonne sector of the Hin denburg line. Not the least formidable of these obstacles is the disinclination of the American people to depart from the tradi-tions of their fathers. It is possible that the first draft of the league constitution did not place sufficient safeguards about what we are accustomed to term American sovereignty; for American independence is too valuable a heritage to be offered for barter and exchange, even in the formation of a league.

When President Wilson first told the members of Congress, who met him by appointment to discuss the league constitu-tion, that the document must be accepted made by the other signatories, he presumed, perhaps, too much upon the credulity of his associates in a co-ordinate branch of the American government. Mr. Taft corrected that idea when he asserted that the main plan of the structure was satisfactory, but certain alterations would strengthen some of the supports and thus add stability to the whole edifice.

It is upon those alterations that the American commission is now employed. Senator Lodge has pointed out an amendment that will safeguard our justly revered Monroe Doctrine. There is nothing in the amendment incompatible with the general plan. It is to be regretted that Mr. Lodge was not a member of the American commission; for if he had been he could have sugence and our commissioners would not be placed in the position of opposing a pro-vision they originally removed. But regrets are unavailing. The present is no time to look back. Expressions from the commissions of the other signatory nations disclose that they are too desirous of having America a part of the league to seriously oppose any minor changes in the articles of the constitution that do not affect the damental plan,

It is possible that the constitution may also be clarified concerning the extent to which countries on one side of the ocean will be called upon to interfere in the dis putes of nations on the other side. Among Conference it was well understood that the asked to send troops to another continent. the object of that clause is to serve notice on nations with predatory instincts that the armed force of the whole league can be evoked when necessary.

American troops are now far afield. They are guarding frontiers in Western Europe, fighting in Siberia and, unfortunately, in to be boisterous in Manchuria Could a League of Nations send there far tion which can be placed on that clause is that it might cause us to do again what we are doing now, in the absence of any league. Balance this view by the fact that the Germans freely admit there would have been no war if they had known that the invasion of Belgium would be resented by The German diplomats and statesmen made the fatal psychological blunder of believing hat the United States would be dictated by self-interest, by the same self-interest that is now protesting against a League of Na-tions, would count the material cost and would not enter the war. It is essential that there should be provision in the league that there should be provision in the league constitution for using the whole armed forces of the signatories wherever their presence may be deemed necessary to pre-serve or restore a peace of justice; for that provision itself will form a barrier that no redatory people will care to pass.

The section relating to the limiting rmaments may also be clarified somewhat But the objection to that section is basel in part on a misapprehension. The con-stitution of the League of Nations is not couched in as clear and concise wording as that of the United States. The reason is that the American Constitution is a document written in the English language for the understanding of persons accustomed to think and converse in English: but the constitution of the League of Nations must be translated into at least seven different each. The phrasing in English is sacrificed to the substance; such a condition could not

It must be borne in mind, moreover, that every amendment proposed by the American commission weakens our influence in the Peace Conference and tends to endange the league programme. The Japanese com-mission has already expressed a willingness to accept the American amendments on condition that an amendment proposed by Japan be inserted; to the effect that no signatory nation shall erect any race bar-rier against the citizens of another signa-tory nation. This amendment must appear equitable from a Japanese point of view; yet the American people are opposed to signing any such covenant. All treaties and constitutions represent series of compromises. No country secures just what it wants in such negotiasides have to be modified. There are obstacles still in the way. Whether these obstacles might have been evaded by taking another route is now but a moot ques-tion. The thing that counts is that the heart of America is as firmly set on a League of Nations as it was in its deter-mination to break the Hindenburg line. And where the heart is the head and the

As predicted by The Times three months ago, the opposition to the league is reducing itself to opposition to certain sections of the constitution of the league; and this opposition does not strike the fundamental "The Maiden's Prayer."

tructure, but only details that may be compromised without exciting animosities and strife within the league itself. In the hearts of the five peoples who united to crush German militarism the league is aleady formed. The peace of the world is in sight and our Senators must understand of its parts. If they permit personal anivotes on the major question of a League of Nations, they are likely to be ranked by the American people along with Aaron Burr, The Man Without a Country, and W.

The debutante with her poetic ankles and tender throat line stands no chance against her. She has realized long since that the opposite sex has no taste, and depends on arts more potent. Though in reality she may be cold as a mermaid, she walks across the hearts of men of all ages with footsteps that leave flaming desire. She is charming, seductive, a sorceress and a blank. SOME HEADS BETTER THAN OTHERS. The hardest thing for us to admit is that another has more sense than we have. If another has more money, we may say he is lucky, or that he has adopted methods we would not adopt, but if he has more sense, the explanation is more difficult. And one of the certain things is that no two heads are alike. I know hundreds of men who have more sense than I have; and I watch them closely, and benefit by their example. Old Forty Rod is on the blink, fts knell will soon be tooted; but water is a goodly drink, when it is not diluted. Oh, water makes no strong appeal to sports all soaked with whisky; they want a drink that makes them feel obstreperous and frisky. In the Hearst geography the West-ern Hemisphere is not a part of the earth-what we call the world-bu a separate planet. We are not guess-ing, nor exaggerating, for here is Hearst's own statement of Hearst's own policy for his little pupils, The People of the United States, as given to them on the editorial page of the Examiner:

the Examiner:
"Our true policy is our ancient policy—to get out of Europe, to stay

Grandiloquent, isn't it? No one is suggesting that we "interfere in the politics of Europe." That is a scarecrow, taken from Hearst's mag-zzine of bogies, to frighten timid Americans. And we should never "interfere in the wars of Europe," eh? But let us remember that it's only five and four and three years ago that Hearst protested against the sale of American ammunition to the Allies for use against Germany; and he protested against the send-ing of American food to the Allies. What a fine American he was then! -[San Francisco Star.

KANSAS WHEAT AND PRAYERS.

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN. [SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE !

WASHINGTON (D. C.) March 21. -In Kansas they are happy. The biggest wheat crop in the history of the State, the biggest wheat crop ever produced by any one State in the Union, in fact one of the biggest crops of anything ever produced anywhere is spreading its tender green across the Kansas prairie. Everybody out in Kansas talks about the wheat, thinks about the wheat and prays for the wheat. And waeat and prays for the wheat. And their prayers this year seem to be answered. All the experts here in Washington agree that the Kansas wheat crop is enjoying almost ideal conditions. The weather shark says that the weather could not be improved upon. The snow-cover which is so necessary to the welfare of winter wheat has been excellent. And a warm, stimulating spring is winter wheat has been excellent.

And a warm, stimulating spring is in prospect. Nothing can really hurt that wheat crop except a drought along in May and June, and everyone in Kansas knows that no such drought is going to occur.

To the people of Kansas the wheat crop is always the chief concern of life. A good wheat crop means wealth, good business, more flivvers and, above all, more fame for the greate State of Kansas, which has an almost famatical press agent in greate State of Kansas, which has an almost fanatical press agent in every true Kansan. If the wheat crop prospers the area of grin on Kansas faces spreads just as visibly as the sprouting wheat spreads across the prairie. If the Hessian fly or the wheat smut or a drought comes along to threaten the life of the wheat the joy is taken out of Kansas life and the Kansas face lengthens like a sunflower stalk in the spring.

The 1917 wheat crop, as everyone knows, was abnormally light. In response to the pleas of the Food Administration the Kansas farmers ministration the Kansas farmers made great efforts for the 1918 crop. It was good, but not a bumper. And all the world was still short of wheat. That, you will remember, was the time of wheatless days and wheatless meals, and queer-looking bread and cake, when you had to buy a pound of something else with every pound of wheat flour.

The Kansas farmers determined that the great State of Kansas should do all that one State could to relieve this world shortage of to relieve this world shortage of wheat. And the Kansans claim— and there is a good deal of evidence to support their claim—that pure patriotism was their only motive. Con-gress had passed the law by which the government guarantees the farmer a price that means about $2 for him on every bushel. But at that time $2 looked like a very small price for the 1919 wheat crop. Every-one believed that the war would continue for years and the farmers believed that if the government had left wheat prices uncontrolled they could have gotten a great deal more than $2.20 a bushel for their wheat.

The crop was planted under tremendous difficulties. The preceding summer the crop had been gathered only by calling on the city and town folk for volunteers and by using women and children; and the planting of the new crop was almost as desperate an undertaking. What little labor was available demanded enormous wages and was very hard to keep. About that time the aver-age farmer was treating his hired man with much the age farmer was treating his hired man with much the same studied diplomacy and consideration that the city people were displaying toward their maids and cooks. One farmer kept his hired man by letting him have the family car to play with every Sunday afternoon; another was appeased by an agreement to the effect that he should always have not for dinner. The average have pie for dinner. The average farm hand was getting $50 and $60 a month in addition to his board and war.

And the cost of labor was not the only thing that had gone up. Seed was very expensive, so that, if the farmer lost his crop, he lost a good label larger investment than usual. deal larger investment than usual Machinery was way up in price, and the scarcity of labor made the use of more machinery necessary.

Virtue was never more gloriously rewarded in a best seller or a fairy tale. The war—you may have heard this before—came to an end. Food began to be abundant in this counbegan to be abundant in this country. It became clear to all and sundry that, but for the fact that the government had promised to pay two-twenty for that 1918 crop, it might sell for a good deal less than that. It also became apparent that labor, instead of being scarce, would be more than abundant. In a word, it became quite clear that the Kansas farmer, who thought he was raising wheat at a personal sacrifice for the good of the nation, found that he was raising it at a fat profit, and possibly at the expense of the nation.

And even nature has been kind to the Kansas patriot. That vast crop, filling every available acre of the Kansas wheat belt, is thriving al-most incredibly. If the Kansas farmer makes a crop that is 70 per cent.
perfect he counts himself fortunate.
This crop, to date, promises to be 100 per cent, perfect. Unless some unforeseen and highly-improbable disaster occurs that wheat crop will total not less than 200,000,000 bushels, thus shattering all previous Kansas records and bringing into the State an amount of money, grar-anteed by the government, which you can figure for yourself.

FIRST PRACTICE AT FRANKLIN.

Institution's Baseball Season Fully Under Way.

Kite Flyers will be Guided by New Coach.

Seve nTeams in the Suburban

Basebail season is on for fair out at Franklin High School. The first practise of the 1919 season was held yesterday afternoon and more than 20 men reported. Of this number 3 are members of last year's nine. With a brand new coach, who is known by the name of Dutcher, the Kite-Fliers have already set their optics on the prep school gonfaion. The three veterans that were out in suits last night are. Capt. Tully, Timmons and Tanaka. The latter is a Japanese and is due for one of the outfield berths, while Timmons will be out for a garden position. Capt. Tully will probaly be seen at shortstop his old station.

The pitching staffs were changed around, as Easterly and Bowman are sure of a berth on the club. The score was tied in the seventh, when Lorenson, first up, tripled to center. Ritchie singled, sending Lorenson over the rubber with the tying run.

MAY ARRANGE SECTIONAL MATCH.

CALIFORNIA TENNIS ASSOCIA TION MAKES PROPOSAL

Efforts to arrange an East-West aroused much interest among folintersectional competition is one of the best means of establishing the relative ability of the players from the two seaboards. As these matche could not be played during the last two years on account of the war, there is more than the usual curi-

The California Lawn Tennis Association proposed to the United States National Lawn Tennis Association that such a match be played, and the details are now being arranged by the officers. It appeared to be impossible to schedule the match in August because of the large number of tournaments requested for that month. No club wants to hold a tournament in competition with so popular an event as wants to hold a tournament in com-petition with so popular an event as an East-West match, nor could a week be taken out of the eastern schedule because of the lateness of the clay court championship this Year.

Under the circumstances the best thing seemed to put the intersectional contest in Cincinnati, and a fact will recommendation to that effect will be made to the Executive Commit-tee of the U.S.N.L. N.T.A. at its meeting on March 21. The East will send its strongest players to meet the Pacific Coast team. Of course, the make-up of each team cannot be determined for weeks. Dr. Sumner Hardy writes that several of the Californians are still in the service so he is unable to tell whether or not new men will have to be found to take their places. This also is true of the East, but it is certain that each section will make every effort to secure the best available players when the time comes.

available players when the time comes.

The last contests of the kind were held three years ago. In August, 1916, the East defeated the West at Forest Hills, six matches to one, the outcome being very much of a surprise. In the following matches the West turned the tables by defeating the eastern players at the University of Southern California, by the same score. Of the four contests held since 1915, each section has won two, but the honors are with the West in the number of sets won and lost.

FAMOUS CASE COMING TO TRIAL

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, March 24.—Trial of the $900,000 treble damage suit under the Sherman anti-trust law of the Baltimore Federal Baseball League club against National and American League clubs and former Federal League officials, was or Federal League officials, was ordered today to begin tomorrow before Associate Justice Stafford of the District of Columbia (Federal) Supreme Court.

The litigation is similar to that in the Federal District Court at Philadelphia two years ago which was halted in the midst of the trial. The Baltimore club claims an actual loss of $200,000 from the disruption of the Federal League and asks the three-fold penalty of the Sherman law. Whether baseball is "commerce" within the scope of the Sherman law is one of the principal questions said to be involved.

FLYNN OBTAINS HIS DISCHARGE.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.] VENICE, March 24.—James Flynn, a professional prize fighter, Flynn, a professional prize fighter, was discharged from custody in Justice McDonald's court today when the prosecuting witness. Bill Aldrich, failed to appear. The two had an altercation in a cafe Saturday night and it is claimed that Flynn floored his opponent, who thereupon swore out a splaint charging assault.

WHIP REGULARS.

YOUNGSTERS CAPTURE A TEN INNING GAME AT BAK. ERSFIELD.

BAKERSFIELD, March 24.—Th Yannigans of the Seattle team defeated the regulars here, 5 to 4, is a ten-inning game. Easterly and Bowman did the heavy work for the Yannigans, while Young and Mc Morran heaved 'em over for the regulars.

The Kite-Fliers are desirous of obtaining a number of practise games, which may be arranged with Raiph Young, manager of the nine. Only a few weeks remain before the first game in the Suburban League is scheduled and for that reason Coach Dutcher is anxious to give his men plenty of real action before the season will offer in the Suburban League and the first game of the season will take place April 4. On this day, Krankin high will clash with Monrovia on the latter's diamond. The other teams in the league are, Glendale, South Pasadena, Citrus Union, Alhambra and Covina.

Besides the probability that the carry-over beans will soon begin to move in appreciable quantities, there is also more activity in the State's grain storage, but there is still a larger proportion remaining unsold than at the corresponding period last year. The Bureau of Crop Estimates figure 6,864,000 bushels of barley on hand March 1, 1919 as against 4,898,000 bushels a year ago and 2,999,000 bushels in 1917.

Los Angeles bankers

Los Angeles bankers are interested in the reported plan to meet the railroad deficit as expressed in interest on stocks and bonds due April 1 by a bond issue for $2,000,000 at 4% per cent. This will be in the form of certificates of indebtedness to the companies for the amounts due from rentals and other sources, the War Finance Committee to make cash advances to the companies on the certificates. This is a refinement and modification of the Liberty Loan plan and opens up

"What class of spring goods are being received in the largest quantity just now," I asked several along the line yesterday. A digest of the answers sift them to "refrigerators and millinery." There are no marked departures in styles in the former, but hats—ia, ia. One dealer suggested that bonnets have no place in a financial department, but if the prices he quoted are a fair example, they threaten to upset the finances of the community, and bank deposit totals more effectually than the Victory Loan.

T is no new thought with you, of course—the idea of a separate bed for each member of the family.

This has been the custom with thousands of families for years—a rapidly spreading custom ever since Twin Beds put the separate bed at the service of households where space is TT is a thing, too, that doctors have I long been urging. Not only for the warding off of infections, such as coughs, "sore throat" or grippe, but for the sake of perfect relaxation and sound sleep.

The restlessness of one sleeper does not disturb the other. And there isn't any loss of vitality-as there is when children sleep with old people, or invalids with the healthy.

But even in a separate bed you will never sleep sound unless your bed invites perfect relaxation.

There is not a person anywhere but will sleep better for doing away with the creaky wooden bed or loosejointed noisy metal bed and getting a Simmons Metal Bed instead - with Slumber King Spring.

THE Slumber King Spring really I does what you have always wanted a spring to do.

It is a new and advanced idea. It is a system of elastic steel strips with spirals of high test spring wire-so combined that the spring action is equal in all directions.

The Slumber King Spring yields to the weight of the body, but supports it. It fits square on the bed. It does not sag, hump - or lose its resiliency. It is always a firm, elastic foundation for the mattress. It invites sound, health-giving sleep.

The Slumber King Spring is finished in oxidized silver. It is rustproof. It has no loose ends or rough corners - cannot wear or tear the THOUSANDS, who for years I have been "light sleepers"waking at every sound-relax completely and sleep all night on a Simmons Metal Bed.

If you've been thinking of separate beds you may be glad to know that Simmons Company are specialists in Twin Beds.

You'll find Simmons Metal Beds and Slumber King Springs at your leading dealer's.

An unusual assortment in brass, colored enamel and natural wood effects-to harmonize with the interior decorations of the day.

PICK MERRITT CASE JURORS

Both Government and Defense Proceed with Caution.

Millionaire's Daughter-in-law may be Federal Witness.

Testimony Taking in Hoarding Case Begins Today.

Both the government and the dense proceeded with unusual caution, yesterday, in the selection of a jury to retry the issues involved in he prosecution of Hulett C. Merritt. the Pasadena millionaire, who is conservation Act, in the hoarding of 000 pounds of sugar

When United States District Judge Trippet adjourned court last evening, eleven jurors had been accepted as follows: Henry A. Culloden, William A. Tufts, H. H. Whiteley, Irwin J. Muma, Thomas A. Dill, Arthur Wilson, W. F. Ball, Clement M. Staub, L. V. Starr, F. R. Chalmers and R. A. Heffner.

A special venire of ten additional jurors was drawn out of the box, and they were immediately served, to report at 10 a.m., today. With but one more juror to be accepted, it is believed that the taking of testimony will begin soon after court opens today.

The defendant, accompanied by Mrs. Merritt, sat, yesterday, as dur-

The detendant, accompanied by Mrs. Merritt, sat, yesterday, as during the former hearing, just inside the rail, but Hulett C. Merritt, Jr., who, arrayed in a military uniform, was conspicuous at the former trial, was not present yesterday. Mr. Merritt was of much assistance to pass muster.

When the hearing finally begins, there will not be more than a dozen witnesses on behalf of the government, headed by Miss Anna Hare, the cook in the Merritt household, who, at the last hearing furnished the only testimony to connect Me who, at the last hearing furnished the only testimony to connect Mo Merritt with the 500 pounds of sugar involved in the accusation.

In this trial, as during the initial hearing, an effort will be made to connect the defendant with actual knowledge of the purchase of the sugar. This was not done at the former trial, the evidence in that direction being ruled out by the court.

A strong effort will be made, it was stated yesterday, to get certain documentary evidence before the jury this time that was ruled out before, and there will be much argument on the disputed question of principle and agent, to show to what extent Mr. Merritt was responsible for the delivery of the

At the first hearing the testimon in behalf of the defendant was limited to that of Mr. Merritt, himself, who denied the conversation imputed to him by Miss Hare, and to a few character witnesses. Among the witnesses summoned by the government is Mrs. Hulett C. Merritt, Jr., but whether she will Merritt, Jr., but whether she testify in the case has not yet

AL G. BARNES CIRCUS HERE ON THURSDAY.

NGAGEMENT LASTING THREE PRAGER PARK.

The Al G. Barnes four-ring wild imal circus will open here Thursday for three days' engagement at Prager Park. It is promised by the advance representative that nothing o compare with the present Al G. Barnes performance has before been seen under canvas. New features have been imported from abroad and a programme of thrilling, educational and comic events will be put on in the four rings and big steel-bound arena and the hippodrome surrounding, for more than three hours at each performance. A new pageant entitled "Alice in Jungle Land." in which 600 persons and 1200 animals appear in costumes, will be presented. There will be thirty clowns, an increased menagerie of wild and semi-wild animals. Two herds of elephants, several caravans of camels and many recently born baby animals will be seen.

There will be a two-mile-long free street parade which will start from the circus lot promptly at 10:30 a.m. Doors to the show will open at 1 and 7 p.m.

ADMITS HE'S BURGLAR.

Frank Turner, alias Frank Tier-Frank Turner, alias Frank Tierney, told Justice Forbes that he did
